YAHOO! REPORTS FOURTH QUARTER 2010 RESULTS Fourth Quarter Revenue and Profitability Exceed Expectations; Full Year 2010 Operating Income Doubles Year Over Year

SUNNYVALE, California, January 25, 2011 – Yahoo! Inc. (NASDAQ: YHOO) today reported results for the fourth quarter and full year ended December 31, 2010.

Revenue excluding traffic acquisition costs ("revenue ex-TAC") was $1,205 million for the fourth quarter of 2010, a 4 percent decrease from the fourth quarter of 2009, primarily due to the revenue share with Microsoft. GAAP revenue was $1,525 million for the fourth quarter of 2010, a 12 percent decrease from the fourth quarter of 2009, primarily due to the required change in revenue presentation and the revenue share with Microsoft associated with the Search Agreement. For transitioned markets (U.S. and Canada in the fourth quarter), Yahoo! now reports revenue associated with the Search Agreement on a net (after TAC) basis rather than a gross basis. Excluding the impact of these two items as well as the divestitures of Zimbra and HotJobs and the exit of the paid inclusion business, revenue for the fourth quarter of 2010 increased 3 percent compared to the fourth quarter of 2009.

Income from operations increased by 85 percent to $220 million in the fourth quarter of 2010, compared to $119 million in the fourth quarter of 2009. Income from operations included restructuring charges of $38 million and $40 million in the fourth quarter of 2010 and 2009, respectively. Excluding these items, income from operations grew 62 percent in the fourth quarter of 2010 compared to the fourth quarter of 2009.

Net earnings per diluted share increased by 120 percent to $0.24 per diluted share in the fourth quarter of 2010, compared to $0.11 per diluted share in the fourth quarter of 2009. Net earnings per diluted share included restructuring charges of $0.02 per diluted share for the fourth quarters of both 2010 and 2009.

Quarterly Results (in millions, except percentages and per share amounts)

Financials at a Glance

"We just completed a very encouraging quarter and year for Yahoo!, where we saw our plans to turn around the company gain momentum," said Carol Bartz, CEO of Yahoo!. "For the year, operating income, margins, EPS, and return on invested capital doubled. Display advertising grew 17%. We completed the important North America Search transition to Microsoft on schedule and with high quality. We introduced new and updated products at a faster pace. And our content properties – like Yahoo! Sports and Yahoo! Finance – continued to innovate and extend their massive lead."

Business Highlights

- Operating margin expanded from 7 percent in the fourth quarter of 2009 to 14 percent in the fourth quarter of 2010. Excluding restructuring charges of $40 million and $38 million in the fourth quarters of 2009 and 2010, respectively, operating margin expanded from 9 percent to 17 percent.
- Completed the transition from Yahoo!'s Search Marketing platform to Microsoft's search advertising platform (adCenter) in the U.S. and Canada at the end of October.
- Yahoo! announced the beta launch of a Local Offers program in which Yahoo! is partnering with more than a dozen online and offline local "deal" providers (including Groupon and Valpak) in an effort to build one of the largest and most comprehensive repositories of local offers on the Internet.
- Yahoo! introduced the first phase of its integration with Zynga that allows users to launch, play, and share Zynga's popular games like Mafia Wars and FishVille on Yahoo! Messenger, Yahoo! Games, My Yahoo!, Yahoo! Toolbar, and Yahoo! Pulse.
- Yahoo! introduced Twitter integration that allows users to connect their Yahoo! and Twitter accounts globally to see and share Twitter updates on the Yahoo! homepage, Yahoo! Messenger, Yahoo! Mail, and Yahoo! Pulse.
- Yahoo! launched the Yahoo! Messenger Beta that allows users to play social games from publishers like Zynga, ELEX and OMGPOP, share their status across networks, and view, comment on, and "like" updates from Yahoo! Pulse, Flickr, Facebook, and Twitter — all from within Yahoo! Messenger. Interoperability with Facebook Chat also broadens the group of friends with whom users can instantly connect and chat on Yahoo! Messenger.
- Yahoo! launched the new Yahoo! Mail Beta, a faster, easier, safer, and more social communications experience that helps users around the world be more engaged, productive and connected than ever.
- Yahoo! introduced the Yahoo! Contributor Network platform that enables authors to reach an audience of millions by publishing their creative content on Yahoo!. The Yahoo! Contributor Network is an evolution of the Associated Content platform that brings contributions from more than 400,000 writers, photographers, and videographers to some of the Internet's most popular media destinations, including Yahoo! News, Yahoo! Finance, Yahoo! Sports, and even the Yahoo! homepage, among many others.
- Yahoo! continued to unveil original programming including the Weekend Edition on Yahoo! News, a new weekend program offering compelling original video and relevant editorial content, programmed for the weekend audience and an extension of the Who Knew program on omg!, sponsored by Toyota.
- Yahoo! named Ross Levinsohn as its EVP, Americas and Wayne Powers as its SVP, Advertising Sales for North America.

Search Alliance Costs and Reimbursements

Yahoo!'s results for the fourth quarter of 2010 reflect $66 million in search operating cost reimbursements from Microsoft under the Search Agreement, which amount is equal to the search operating costs incurred by Yahoo! in the fourth quarter. Our search operating costs declined in the fourth quarter, compared to the third quarter, because we completed the transition of the U.S. and Canada to Microsoft's search platform in October. Search operating cost reimbursements are expected to continue to decline as Yahoo! fully transitions all markets to Microsoft's search platform and the underlying expenses are removed from our cost structure. Our business outlook for total expenses reflects these savings as well as planned reinvestments.

Yahoo!'s results for the fourth quarter of 2010 also reflect transition cost reimbursements from Microsoft under the Search Agreement of $21 million. In the fourth quarter, transition cost reimbursements were equal to the transition costs incurred by Yahoo! related to the Search Agreement. Therefore, the net impact of the transition costs and reimbursements were neutral to total operating expenses in the fourth quarter, as expected.

Fourth Quarter 2010 Revenue Results

- GAAP display revenue increased 14 percent to $635 million, compared to $560 million for the fourth quarter of 2009.
- Display revenue ex-TAC increased 16 percent to $567 million, compared to $490 million for the fourth quarter of 2009.
- GAAP search revenue was $640 million, a 27 percent decrease compared to $875 million for the fourth quarter of 2009.
- Search revenue ex-TAC was $388 million, an 18 percent decrease compared to $473 million for the fourth quarter of 2009.

Cash Flow and Cash Balance

- Cash flow from operating activities for the fourth quarter of 2010 was $403 million, a 15 percent increase compared to $351 million for the same period of 2009.
- Free cash flow was $155 million for the fourth quarter of 2010, a 29 percent decrease compared to $220 million for the same period of 2009.
- Cash, cash equivalents, and investments in marketable debt securities were $3,629 million at December 31, 2010 compared to $4,518 million at December 31, 2009, a decrease of $889 million. During the year ended December 31, 2010, Yahoo! repurchased 119 million shares for $1,749 million.

Business Outlook

Revenue ex-TAC for the first guarter of 2011 is expected to be in the range of $1,020 million to $1,080 million. Based on the terms of the Search Agreement with Microsoft, Microsoft retains a revenue share of 12 percent of the net (after TAC) search revenue generated on Yahoo!'s Advertising Network in transitioned markets. Yahoo! reports the net revenue it receives under the Search Agreement as revenue and no longer presents the associated TAC within cost of revenue. Accordingly, for transitioned markets Yahoo! reports GAAP revenue associated with the Search Agreement on a net (after TAC) basis rather than a gross basis. For markets that have not yet transitioned, revenue continues to be recorded on a gross basis, and TAC is recorded in cost of revenue. Microsoft's revenue share in the first quarter of 2011 is expected to be approximately $36 million. GAAP revenue for the first quarter of 2011 is expected to be in the range of $1,150 million to $1,230 million. Total expenses (cost of revenue plus total operating expenses) for the first guarter of 2011 is expected to be in the range of $1,020 million to $1,070 million. Total expenses less TAC for the first guarter of 2011 is expected to be in the range of $890 million to $920 million. Income from operations for the first guarter of 2011 is expected to be in the range of $130 million to $160 million.

Business outlook for revenue ex-TAC is being provided to reflect the underlying dynamics of the business during the Microsoft transition and to facilitate comparisons to prior periods.

Yahoo! Inc. Note to Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Statements of Income

This press release and its attachments include the non-GAAP financial measures of revenue excluding traffic acquisition costs ("revenue ex-TAC"), free cash flow, total expenses (GAAP cost of revenue plus GAAP total operating expenses) less TAC, non-GAAP net income, and non-GAAP net income per diluted share, which are reconciled to revenue, cash flow from operating activities, total expenses (GAAP cost of revenue plus GAAP total operating expenses), net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc., and net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc. common stockholders per share - diluted, which we believe are the most comparable GAAP measures. We use these non-GAAP financial measures for internal managerial purposes and to facilitate period-to-period comparisons. We describe limitations specific to each non-GAAP financial measure below. Management generally compensates for limitations in the use of non-GAAP financial measures by relying on comparable GAAP financial measures and providing investors with a reconciliation of the non-GAAP financial measure to the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure or measures. Further, management uses non-GAAP financial measures only in addition to and in conjunction with results presented in accordance with GAAP. We believe that these non-GAAP financial measures reflect an additional way of viewing aspects of our operations that, when viewed with our GAAP results, provide a more complete understanding of factors and trends affecting our business and operating costs. These non-GAAP measures should be considered as a supplement to, and not as a substitute for, or superior to, revenue, cash flow from operating activities, total expenses, net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc., and net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc. common stockholders per share diluted calculated in accordance with GAAP.

Revenue ex-TAC is a non-GAAP financial measure defined as GAAP revenue less TAC. TAC consists of payments made to third-party entities that have integrated our advertising offerings into their websites or other offerings and payments made to companies that direct consumer and business traffic to Yahoo!'s online properties and services. Based on the terms of the Search Agreement with Microsoft, Microsoft retains a revenue share of 12 percent of the net (after TAC) search revenue generated on Yahoo!'s Advertising Network (which consists of Yahoo!'s own online properties and services as well as the distribution network of third-party entities that have integrated our advertising offerings into their websites or other offerings) in transitioned markets. Yahoo! reports the net revenue it receives under the Search Agreement as revenue and no longer presents the associated TAC within cost of revenue. Accordingly, for transitioned markets Yahoo! reports GAAP revenue associated with the Search Agreement on a net (after TAC) basis rather than a gross basis. For markets that have not yet transitioned, revenue continues to be recorded on a gross basis, and TAC is recorded in cost of revenue. We present revenue ex-TAC to provide investors a metric used by the Company for evaluation and decision-making purposes during the Microsoft transition and to provide investors with comparable revenue numbers when comparing periods preceding, during and following the transition period. We present revenue ex-TAC business outlook to reflect the underlying dynamics of the business during the Microsoft transition and to facilitate comparisons to prior periods. A limitation of revenue ex-TAC is that it is a measure which we have defined for internal and investor purposes that may be unique to the Company, and therefore it may not enhance the comparability of our results to other companies in our industry who have similar business arrangements but address the impact of TAC differently. Management compensates for these limitations by also relying on the comparable GAAP financial measures of revenue, cost of revenue, and gross profit, each of which includes the impact of TAC.

Free cash flow is a non-GAAP financial measure defined as cash flow from operating activities (adjusted to include excess tax benefits from stock-based compensation), less net capital expenditures and dividends received from equity investees. We consider free cash flow to be a liquidity measure which provides useful information to management and investors about the amount of cash generated by the business after the acquisition of property and equipment, which can then be used for strategic opportunities including, among others, investing in the Company's business, making strategic acquisitions, strengthening the balance sheet, and repurchasing stock. A limitation of free cash flow is that it does not represent the total increase or decrease in the cash balance for the period. Management compensates for this limitation by also relying on the net change in cash and cash equivalents as presented in the Company's unaudited condensed consolidated statements of cash flows prepared in accordance with GAAP which incorporates all cash movements during the period.

Total expenses less TAC is a non-GAAP financial measure defined as total expenses (GAAP cost of revenue plus GAAP total operating expenses) less TAC. We consider total expenses less TAC to be a useful indicator of our operating costs. We exclude TAC from this measure because TAC generally varies based on the revenue we earn from traffic supplied by certain third parties, and doing so assists investors in understanding the operating cost structure of our business. A limitation associated with the non-GAAP measure of total expenses less TAC is that it does not reflect TAC. Management compensates for this limitation by also relying on the comparable GAAP financial measures of cost of revenue and income from operations, each of which includes TAC.

Non-GAAP net income is defined as net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc. excluding certain gains, losses, expenses, and their related tax effects that we do not believe are indicative of our ongoing results. In reporting results for fiscal 2009 and its interim periods, we adjusted non-GAAP net income to exclude stock-based compensation expense and its related tax effects. Beginning in the first quarter of 2010, we no longer exclude stock-based compensation expense and its related tax effects. For comparison purposes, prior period amounts have been revised to conform to the current presentation. We consider non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP net income per diluted share to be profitability measures which facilitate the forecasting of our results for future periods and allow for the comparison of our results to historical periods. A limitation of non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP net income per diluted share for the period. Management compensates for this limitation by also relying on the comparable GAAP financial measures of net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc. and net income attributable to Yahoo! Inc. common stockholders per share - diluted, both of which include the gains, losses, expenses and related tax effects that are excluded from non-GAAP net income and non-GAAP net income per diluted share.

(1) Direct costs for each segment include cost of revenue (excluding TAC) and other operating expenses that are directly attributable to the segment such as employee compensation expense (excluding stock-based compensation expense), local sales and marketing expenses, and facilities expenses. Prior to the fourth quarter of 2010, we included TAC in segment direct costs. For comparison purposes, prior period amounts have been revised to conform to the current presentation.

<sup>(2)</sup> Global operating costs include product development, service engineering and operations, marketing, customer advocacy, general and administrative, and other corporate expenses that are managed on a global basis and that are not directly attributable to any particular segment.
